

excellent kind responsible respectful

St George's University Hospitals NHS
NHS Foundation Trust

Your Story – St. George's Paediatric Intensive Care Unit

Thank you for considering sharing your child and families story on our website. We would love to include a short story about your child, including photos if you are willing, to show the work we do and the journeys our children and families take to get better again.

Shared stories allow a better understanding of children's healthcare, care of critically ill children, and help us to raise money to continue improving our PICU and the facilities we provide to children and parents.

If you are happy to participate, we would love to receive a short story from you:

- We will title it by your child's first name, for example: 'Sarah's Story'.
- 1 short paragraph explaining what happened to your child
- 1 or 2 paragraphs explaining your PICU experience
- 1 photo of your child after recovering, either them alone or your whole family
- 1 photo of your child during their admission, if you have one and are willing.
- Aim for 100 - 200 words please. If we edit your story at all, we'll make sure you're happy with the final version.

Each story will be published on our website alongside your pictures. If for any reason you wanted it removed in the future, we would happily do so.

Thank you so much for supporting out PICU - we look forward to hearing from you. Do let us know if you need any help preparing your story, or if you would like to support us in any other way.

Contact: Nick Prince, PICU Consultant. nprince@nhs.net

With best wishes from our Team

PICU @ St. George's Hospital, London